There is a project on foot, or talked of, to change the landing place of passengers by the Inman line of Employers steamers from New York to Newport.

New York places a tax of $4 per capita on every emigrant from Europe landed in that city, while in Bhode Island the tax is only fifty cents. The extent of the iron trade of the city of Bos national building race across the continent by the rival Kansas and Omaha Pacific Companies is becoming exciting. The Omaha line had reached its three hundred and twenty-second mile post on Saturday evening, the 11th instant, and the Kansas line had, on the 9th, reached its one hundred and ninety-seventh mile post. Each line is advancing at the rate of two and a half miles per day, and one of the contractors promises three

Paris papers say that the story about the new Prench gun which shoots people without powder or amoke is quite true. The weapon is really a sling, improved up to the nineteenth century standard. The New York Home Journal says: "We can vouch for the fact that, in certain indolent fashionable families in this city, men call regularly to wind up the clock. Several jewellers keep men for this service, and dispatch them on regular rounds or beats." "A certain young lady," says the same authority, "quite a belle in a society, had a quarrel with her father, the other evening, because he refused to give consent to her to marry a certain bogus count. She flung a book at his head which she had been reading (probably it was 'Mable's Cross'), called him a 'dunce,' 'fool,' etc., and then had hysterics. There are a few more of the same sort

GREELEY turns sharply upon WENDELL PRULIPS in reply to the latter's assault. He gives his record from an early date to the present, and after quoting some of PHILLP's article, says: "Such language from those who believe and feel thus is rendered respectable by its earnestness; from WEEDELL PHILLIPS, it is hypocritical and infamous. He panders to mob passions for the grati-fication of his own. We leave him to that remorse which calm and reflection must engender." The quarrel just now in progress in the Radical wigwam is very interesting to outsiders, and not without both amusement and instruction.

Sir Excesson Tennant gives in Land and Water an account of a pony, the property of a milkman, which brings milk to Sir Emesson's door daily. By means of bread, sugar and chestnuts it has been tamed, and it now moves from door to door of its own accord, preceding the milkman, so that while he is settling with the servant at one house, the servants of the next house, warned by the sound of the stoppage of the cart, may be in readiness to take in the milk when the man arrives. At certain doors, where the pony is in the habit of being re galed with bread, apples, &c., it contrives, without upsetting the cart, to raise the knocker with its nose and rap twice. Three immense Railroad Companies—the Grand Trunk of Canada, the London, Dover, and Chatham (finding its terminus in the very heart of ion), the Atlantic and Great Western, have. one by one, gone down into the gulf of bankruptcy. The Grand Trunk, on an expenditure of some $59,000,000, is now a fancy stock on the London market at twenty cents on the dollar. The Lon-...don; Dover, and Chatham, on a cost of $35,000,000 or $40,000,000; is speculated in at the same figure, while the Atlantic and Great Western, with one mortgage debt of $30,000,000, a large amount of other obligations, and a very considerable amount of paid-up capital stock beside, cannot find pur-

THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S OPINION

We must confess to have read the long looked for opinion of the Attorney-General with the most provoking disappointment. What we certainly wanted, and what we supposed the military commanders, who applied for instruction, wanted, was a clear interpretation of the act which they have not got, and not a learned suggestion of difficulties of construction which they have got. So dense a thicket of legal puzzles we have never before attempted to penetrate. The difficulties of the Reconstruction Act were bad enough, suggesting the

Who jumped into a bramble bush

And scratched out both his eyes.
But whoever goes to the opinion of the At torney General for relief, must undoubtedly act upon the principle of the same intelligen individual, who. When he found his eyes were out,

With all his might and male; Jumped back into the bramble bush And scratched them in again.

When we were boys we recollect that ther was a famous school exercise, "John is s man," and the boys were required to vary the sentence thus, "A man is John," "Is John s man," "Is a man John," and so forth up, we believe, to twenty variations of the same sen-

Now with all due deference to the Attorney General, it seems to us that he has done just this thing with the Reconstruction Act. He has twisted it and turned it; he has put the last sentence first, and converted an assertion into a question with great ingenuity, but we cannot see that he has interpreted it. We are four columns long. We are sure that it is a learned opinion, for we cannot understand it. loes not leave the whole question in the hands of the registers, the test of whose fitness to lecide, is their ability to take the test oath. There has, as we all know, been some little lissatisfaction with the idea that our "colored. rothren" were to be admitted to the registration boards, but we are satisfied that there will be an universal recognition of the fitness for such a position of any "gentleman of 000, the treasury of Great Britain making up color" who can read, and inwardly digest this the deficiency. Nova Scotia raises a revenue formidable document.

first as to registration. The Attorney-General decides that the registration must be complete ing $600,000. Prince Edward Island expends by the first of September, that after that date nothing can be done by the registration boards but perfect their returns. The qualifications entitling persons to register are then detailed, and as the oath is specific, there is not much room for interpretation, except as to the disqualification of disfranchisement and the qualification of residence. As to the disqualification, the Attorney-General decides very properly. "Whether we consider this disability as arising out of participation in rebellion or commission of felony, the mere fact of participation or commission of felonious offence does not of itself work disfranchise ment. It must be ascertained by the judgment of the Court, or Legislative Act passed by competent authority, &c., and adds, "I am not aware of any law of the United States, which works disfranchisement as to right of suffrage by the force of the act itself, nor dees such a consequence follow from conviction or treason, or conspiracy to commit treason, or for any other act or participation in rebelion. * * I am not advised of any statute now in force in either of these ten States, except perhaps in Virginia, which declares disfranchisement as to the right of suffrage by orce of the Act itself." But as to the question of "residence," the Attorney-General expresses an opinion, which, rash as it may seem, we venture to think in direct conflict not only with the intention, but with the letter of the Reconstruction Act.

He decides that a residence of twelve months in the State is not necessary to "registration," but that any citizen, otherwise qualified, can register although he cannot rote after register ing until he has fulfilled the condition of the twelve months residence. And he suggests that the registers ought to note in the registry the time of residence, so as to prevent a citizen from voting, simply because he had registered without fulfilling the term of residence. Now, if this decision is correct, the opportunity of fraud is terrible. Everybody can register, and once registered, how are the notes of the register to be made available to prevent his voting? The ground of this opinion, as far as we can gather it, seems to be that the registration oath requires the candidate for registry to wear that he "has resided in said State for months next preceding the day when he takes oath," &c.; and the Attorney-General says; "For we find that in the Supplemental Act the oath as to residence does not require the applicant to swear that he has been a resident for a year, but only requires him to state the number of months of his residence, contemplating a period less than, as well as a full erm of, twelve months." Now we think this a most gratuitous infernce, and a very large one, from the simple fact of the blank in the required oath. Why that blank was left we are not called on to explain; but that it does not justify the inference, is, we think, conclusively proved by this;

The Supplemental Act uses this most em phatic language; "That before the first day of September, &c., the Commanding General, &c., shall cause a registration to be made of the nale citizens of the United States. twenty-one rears and upwards, &c., which registration will INCLUDE ONLY THOSE PERSONS WHO ARE QUALI-FIRD TO VOTE FOR DELEGATES BY THE ACT AFORESAID, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath."

Who are thus "qualified to vote for delegates

by the act aforesaid ?" Section 5 of the act answers: "A convention of delegates elected by all the male citizens of said States, twenty-one years old and upward, of whatever race, color, or previous condition. who have been residents in said State for one year previous to the day of such election," &c., &c.

Now it is clear that to register, the applicant must do two things; 1. Be entitled to vote for delegates by this section 5; and 2. Take the registration oath.

If he is not qualified by section 5, he cannot ake the oath nor be registered.

Well, the Commanding General of each District is instructed upon the close of the registration to order an election, of which at least thirty days' notice must be given, but the date of the election is left entirely to his discretion. be six months.

Now, take a practical illustration. A applies o be registered; he has been a resident but six months in the State. How can he say he is qualified under section 5? He cannot say that he has been a resident twelve months before the election, for the election is not ordered, and neither he nor the registers, nor the Commanding General himself know when it will be ordered. If the election should be ordered two months after the registration, he would not be qualified; if ordered six months after, he would. And yet the registry can include "only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the Act aforesaid," and the Act aforesaid says distinctly that qualification includes as a sine qua non twelve months' residence before the election.

We think it clear that this is one of the omissions which is due to the hurry and utter want of all statesmanlike consideration with which the Act was passed. But we think it equally clear that the Attorney-General, in supplying the hiatus, has erred. If it must be supplied, let it be by a just analogy, and require the blank to be filled up with twelve months so that by securing the requisite residence before registration, you secure the requisite residence before election. Both interpretations are constructive, but the latter neither contradicts the letter of the Act nor opens the door to the frauds, which, under the other interpretation, will surely be practiced.

THE "DOMINION OF CANADA."

The cable reports that yesterday Queen Vic-TORIA issued a proclamation establishing the Dominion of Canada. The provinces of Upper and Lower Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Prince Edward's Island are included in the new Government by the provisions of the Act of Confederation recently passed by Parliament. Senators have also been designated by her Majesty, so that all is ready for the people of the provinces to enter upon this new arrangement.

The territory included in the new State has an area of about 400,000 square miles-Canada having about 320,000; New Brunswick 27,620; Nova Scotta 15,607; Cape Breton 3120; Newfoundland about 36,000, and Prince Edward's Island 2134. The population is computed as follows:

A total of about three and a quarter mil.

These provinces have been for many years ruled by colonial governments, and have exercised many functions of distinct sovereignty. They levy taxes, incur debts, and administer justice. The sources of revenue are from customs, excise, crown lands, bank taxes, fines and forfeitures, and the postoffice. The revesure that it is an elaborate opinion, for it is. nue of Canada some years ago was $4,429,152; expenditures, £4,769.300; public debt, $51,517,480: Of this indebtedness about But we are by no means sure that, after all, it $21,000,000 should be credited to public works; $21,000,000 to moneys advanced to railroad enterprises, and $9,000,000 to loans to municipal corporations. Since that period these lia-bilities have somewhat increased, but we have not the figures at hand.

The other provinces have not had any better financial management. New Brunswick, with a public revenue of $875,000, expends $550,of about $700,000, and dispenses a larger However, let us examine it in detail, and amount. The British Exchequer pays the excess. Newfoundland has a public del about $70,000 a year, which is amply supplied by revenues.

She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages, and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the names, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her aimost supernatural powers, unvails the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefo stars that overcome or pr-dominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. It costs you but a triffe, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity, Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, 31.
